This year's Bulldog Growl staff has been one of the smallest yet. Comprised of six members at the beginning of school, by midterm, the staff had been reduced to four.

Despite size, the Growl staff worked steadily all year to produce one four-page and seven eight-page newspapers. Their last issue featured Seniors.

The Journalism I students studied styles of news, features, sports, and editorial writing; plus a special two-week segment on photography and film developing.

"At the beginning of the year, when I saw the size of the staff, I thought producing a paper would be an impossibility, but these four students have worked dilligently," commented Carrel Reed, Journalism I teacher.

The Bulldog Growl staff: Allison Snyder, editor; Kelly Bryan, photographer; Tom Miles, reviews; Amber English, news; Eric Roberts, sports; and Dewitt Olenik, reporter.

Perfection

While most students were swimming, vacationing, or just lounging around, eight journalism students dedicated a week of summer vacation to learning activities.

The students attended journalism camp at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, from July 28 to August 1.

The staff learned new layout techniques and ideas for sales promotions. Staff members also exchanged ideas with journalism students from other schools. Camp was a week of fun and learning.

Those who attended camp were Ramona Myers, Kacee Hargrave, Kim Phillips, Steven Willson, Tim Tone, Jon Powell, Tim Burley, and Kelly Bryan.

Personified

The staff members worked together at camp to produce a model yearbook for judging. They also created a promotional table which presented the model yearbook's theme. The staff's ideas paid off. They placed third with their model annual.

The Blue Quill Staff sponsored the first dance of the school year. The $300 profits from the dance were used to provide more color pages for the 1987 Blue Quill.

Promotes Leadership

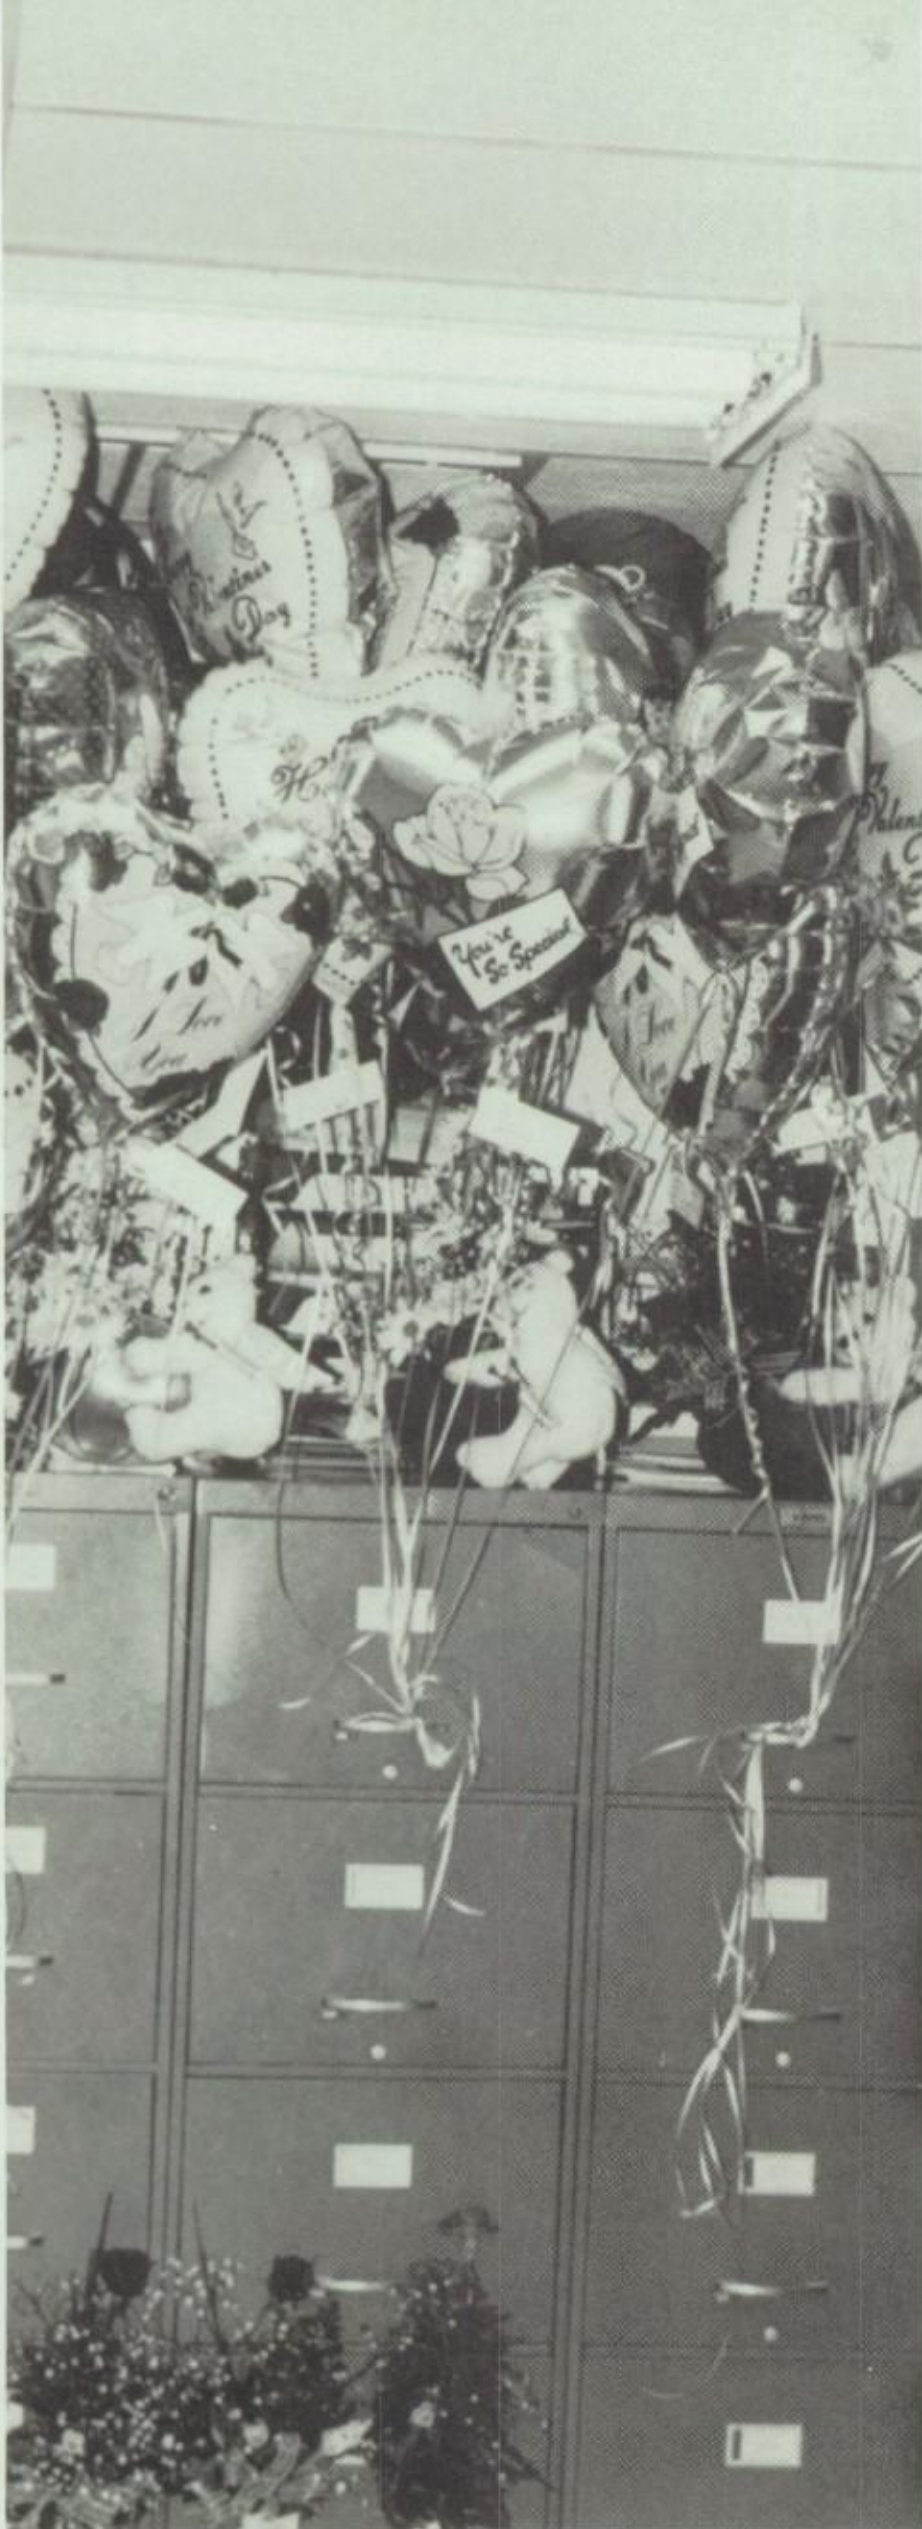

"Hey, baby — kiss off!" joked student council members as they made stickers for their 'kiss off' sale May 5-8. Besides selling candy, the student council sponsored a 'Toys for Tots' drive at Christmastime, had a car wash to raise money for toys, and were allowed one school dance.

Before home football games, council members presented visiting schools with gifts of a yearbook and a council spirit stick, gave welcome speeches, and said prayers.

During the fall semester, the council gave the 1987 seniors a barbeque.

Officers attended a week-long leadership camp at Stephen F. Austin State University the week of July 21-25, 1986. Officers are president, Allison Snyder; vice-president, Franz Baldwin; secretary, Shana Hood; treasurer, Regina Cockrell. Members include Michael Woodard, Rachel Huff, Lance Scott, Kacee Hargrave, Jeanne Powell, Ira Drayton, Lync Cavanaugh, Tracy Fortune, E'ea Anderson, Terral Morris, Kim Whitworth, Melissa Clayton, Kevin Willson, Stacy Stewart, and Leslie Jones.

Ed Ray and Kenneth Henderson co-sponsored the council.

Duncan the Bulldog

This year definitely has been a time for changes. Along with the new rules set by the state and the new buildings added to the campus, C-CHS got a mascot, Duncan the Bulldog. Working behind the mask was Nancy Gassiott. Gassiott became Duncan by a cheerleaders' election and teacher recommendation.

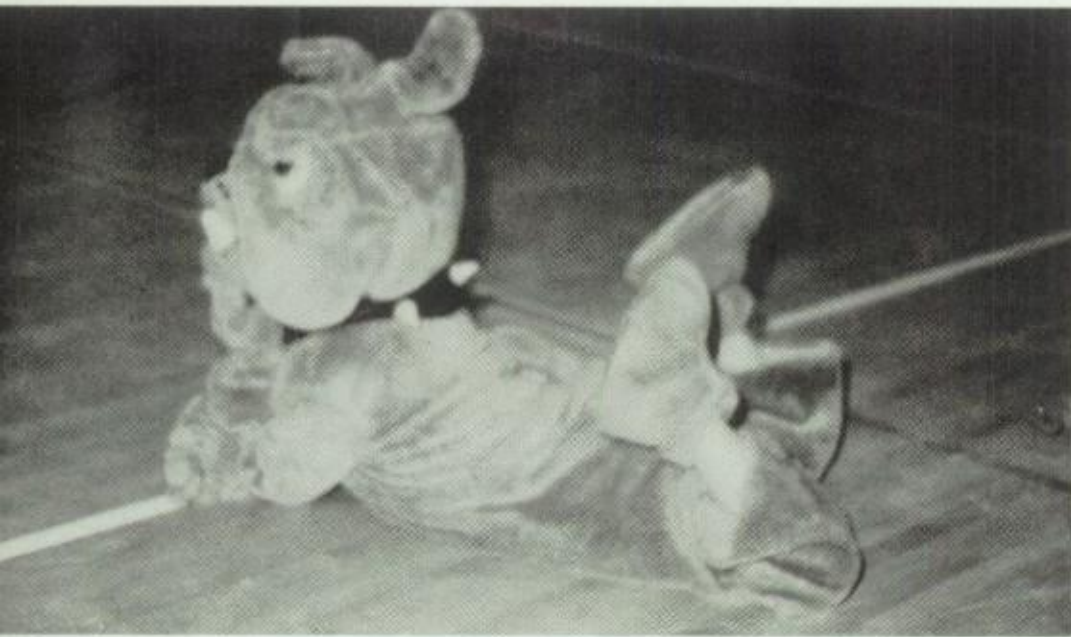

Duncan added a new dimension to the pep rallies. The new face plus the idea of having a mascot again boosted the students' spirit. Duncan danced, sang, and even shook her "tail," as she got everyone into the "Bulldog spirit."

Duncan was also a booster at the football games. She jumped and cheered right along with the cheerleaders. Between cheers she shouted encouragement to the football players who were on the field, as well as those on the bench.

Nancy Gassiott, alias Duncan, said, "Being Duncan was a fun and rewarding experience. It was a way that I let out everything I felt. I felt secure behind the mask."

Even though it was a lot of hard work — at times grueling — everyone, including Nancy, agrees that Duncan was a great addition to C-CHS.

Building for the Future

"Raise that beam higher!"
 "Don't scratch the tile."
 "Move in those shelves."

These were familiar phrases that were heard during the construction of the three new buildings added to the Corrigan-Camden Ind. School District in 1987. The district added a new band hall, a new intermediate gym, and a new elementary school.

Construction on the intermediate gym was completed in January, 1987. Students in grades three through six put the gym to use during the second semester. Band hall construction was completed in April, 1987. Band members moved into the building in the latter part of May. The elementary school is scheduled to be completed in the summer of 1987. Grades one through five plan to be in the new building for the 1987-88 school year.

These buildings will be a great asset to the school district. Aside from adding to the look of things, these buildings have decreased the problem of school overcrowding. In the 1987-88 school year, the high school, which has been housing grades seven through twelve, will house only grades nine through twelve. The new elementary school will ease overcrowding by housing grades one through five, leaving only grades six, seven, and eight for the intermediate school.

Something new always livens up the scheme of things. With the addition of the new buildings, both students and faculty have something to look forward to in the upcoming school year.

CHEERLEADERS PROMOTE SPIRIT

The eight member varsity cheerleaders squad, sponsored by Diana Kelm, went through a busy schedule this school year. Immediately after school let out for the summer, the newly elected cheerleaders began preparation for cheerleading camp. Their practice paid off. At camp they won three "superior" blue ribbons, two "excellent" red ribbons, and the spirit stick.

Aside from cheering at pep rallies, football and basketball games, and track meets, the cheerleaders worked the Special Olympics basketball tournament and raised money through dances, football program-ad-sales, and the Halloween Carnival Sweet Shop. Profits from summer fund raisers were used to purchase the Duncan the Dog mascot suit.

This year's junior high cheerleaders increased from five to eight. More cheerleaders wasn't the only new thing — the junior high squad worked closer with the varsity cheerleaders on cheering skills and fund raising events, helped at the Special Olympics basketball tournament, and bought new uniforms to top it. Although Thursday pep rallies were dropped from the schedule, the junior high cheerleaders did cheer with the varsity squad on occasion. They divided their cheering load evenly for the seventh grade, eighth grade, and junior varsity football teams.

Band Is Involved

The Corrigan-Camden High School Band, under the direction of Kenneth Henderson, had a busy school year for 86-87. The Bulldog band performed each Friday night at the football games. They played such tunes as "Johnny B. Goode," "Rock Me Amadais," and "What's Love Got to Do With It." In October, Mr. Henderson and the band traveled to Pasadena for marching contest. The band came away with a division 3, which means good.

The band appeared in a couple of parades during the year. In March they competed at the Timberfest parade in Groveton. They also marched in the Easter parade at Onalaska.

April 11th, the band members went to UIL Concert and Sightreading contest at C. E. King. The group received a division 3 rating in each category.

May 11th, the band performed at the Pineywood Nursing Home. The Home received new flags and a ceremony was held.

May 15th, the annual concert was held at the high school. Senior members Kacee Hargrave, Ramona Myers, Reanee Willson, Steven Willson, Phyllis Lee, Annie Johnson, Geneva McCloud, and Bethany Phillips presented a gift to Mr. Henderson.

The Year '87

Future Homemakers of America

Besides learning how to cook, sew, and take care of kids, FHA members made trips to Astroworld in Houston and to the State Fair in Dallas. FHA members took on the projects of selling calendars and Bulldog pins to help pay for their trips. Mrs. Donna Jackson, FHA sponsor, fulfilled her goal of having the organization become more active this year.

Members are Kim Phillips, Beatrice Bailey, Heather Burley, Lydia Cavanaugh, Undra Holman, Jason Yankee, Jarred Griffith, Annie Johnson, Kekeitha Cole, and Dena Sterling.

National Honor Society

"The National Honor Society is re-establishing itself as an active organization," stated Ramona Myers, NHS president.

While members are urged to promote scholarship, good character, and leadership, the organization has also made a move toward more community service. In addition to their annual food drive at Christmas, NHS members tutored other students and helped in the move to Corrigan's new public library. Jean Reily, city librarian, said that their help was invaluable in getting settled in the new building.

October 18th, the Society held a bake sale in front of Brookshire Bros. to raise money for Honor Society pins and white drapes for senior members to wear at their graduation ceremony.

To be a member of the NHS, students must maintain an average of 90 or above, have outstanding character, and be active in school, community, or church service.

This year's officers are as follows: Ramona Myers, president; Allison Snyder, vice-president; Rachel Huff, secretary; Jeannie Powell, treasurer; and Shelly Mallard, reporter. Members include Jesus Gomez, Mack Dugat, Steven Willson, Kacee Hargrave, Donna Nunez, Paul Jones, and Eric Monzingo. NHS sponsor is Carrel Reed. On March 17, 1987, the Rising Star Chapter of NHS inducted seven new members. They are E'ea Anderson, Roy Beauchamp, Shelly Braswell, Tracy Fortune, Theresa Matthews, Melony Tubbs, and Kim Whitworth.

"Save me a dance Saturday night, okay?"

The theme for this year's junior-senior prom on April 11, LEAN ON ME, seemed to be exactly what students had in mind. Between blasts of "Brass Monkey" and "Old Time Rock and Roll," students merged on the dance floor to slow dance with dates and friends to such hits as "With or Without You" and "Let's Wait Awhile."

Hors d'oeuvres and punch were served along with shrimp, chips, and dip. Class sponsors and administrators attended the dance. FM 99's Mike Love and crew deejayed.

The last flag of the Alamo...

In the blood red dawn of March 6, 1836, a single blue flag still flew over the topmost point of the Alamo. On the blue banner were the words "First Company of Texan Volunteers from New Orleans, God and Liberty". It was to be the last flag flown by the Texas garrison, and it typifies the story of the Texas fight for independence.

In October of 1835, a meeting was held at Bank's Arcade in New Orleans. There, a group of Texans led by Adolphus Sterne of Nacogdoches offered rifles and aid to the first men who would join the Texas fight.

Two companies of volunteers answered Sterne's plea and formed The New Orleans Greys - over 100 men from 12 states and 6 foreign countries who joined "the noble cause". The Louisiana Volunteers received their flag at San Augustine and carried it to San Antonio, to Goliad, and finally into the siege of the Alamo.

Of the 182 men who died defending the Alamo, no record remains telling how many were part of The New Orleans Greys. Only the men's names were known - not their battle units. And it doesn't really matter.

During those immortal 13 days at the Alamo, all the men became more than a garrison of different units. As John Meyers later wrote, they became eternally "symbols of valor in the minds of men".

The Science Fair

A science fair at Corrigan-Camden High School? Yes! As unrealistic as it may sound, C-CHS had an "official" science fair, and it was a huge success.

The organizer of this event was Science Department Director, Sydney Murphy. Science teachers Lovelyn Jeanes and Robert Morgan helped Murphy plan and set up the event. The big event took place in the high school gym on Thursday, April 9, 1987, and was open to any student attending C-CISD. In all there were 45 projects done by high school students, and four projects along with some posters done by junior high students.

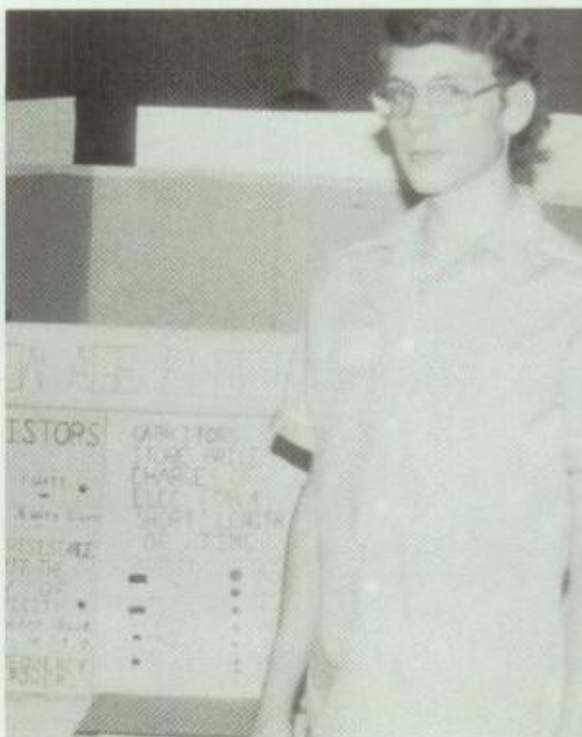

Students with projects were in competition with other students. The projects were judged by columnist Frank Hyde, rancher/cattleman Bill Brown, and intermediate school teacher Charlene Youngblood.

C-CHS students were allowed to attend the science fair if their teachers wished to take them during their class periods. Intermediate and elementary students also were allowed to visit the fair and view the projects at times specified by their principals. These students particularly enjoyed seeing the different projects working. Winners of the ribbons were as follows: first place, Leslie Jones and Jackie Hollis; second place, Eric Bacon and Cecil Davis; third place, Chris Standley and Melissa Clayton; fourth place, Edric Bacon and Paul Cockrell; fifth place, David McClen-don and Wade Gesford; and sixth place, Kenneth Monteaux. Honorable mentions were Allison Snyder, Lori Ward and Heather Burley, Laura Matthews and Jennifer Bolin, and Tina Stewart and Linc Cavanaugh.

Sydney Murphy received many compliments on the outstanding job she did in organizing the science fair. The science department deserves credit for a job well done.

Students Work and Play

The 1986-87 school year held a lot for C-C students to look back on. Juniors making preparations for the prom worked the Doghouse at basketball games, Mrs. Jeanes' seventh graders campaigned against drug and alcohol abuse, class battled against class in yelling competitions at pep rallies.

"What did you get on your report card?" asked friends at the end of the six-weeks grading periods. Students spent hour upon hour studying so they could meet U.I.L. eligibility standards. Athletes, band members, Ag students, cheerleaders, and twirlers had to make 70 or above if they wanted to participate in extra-curricular activities. Those who didn't make the grade had to wait six weeks before being eligible to participate again.

At Halloween, groups of kids who had tired of wrapping houses trooped through the senior spook house for a ride on the wild side. The next day they laughed at how a friend was scared by the chainsaw.

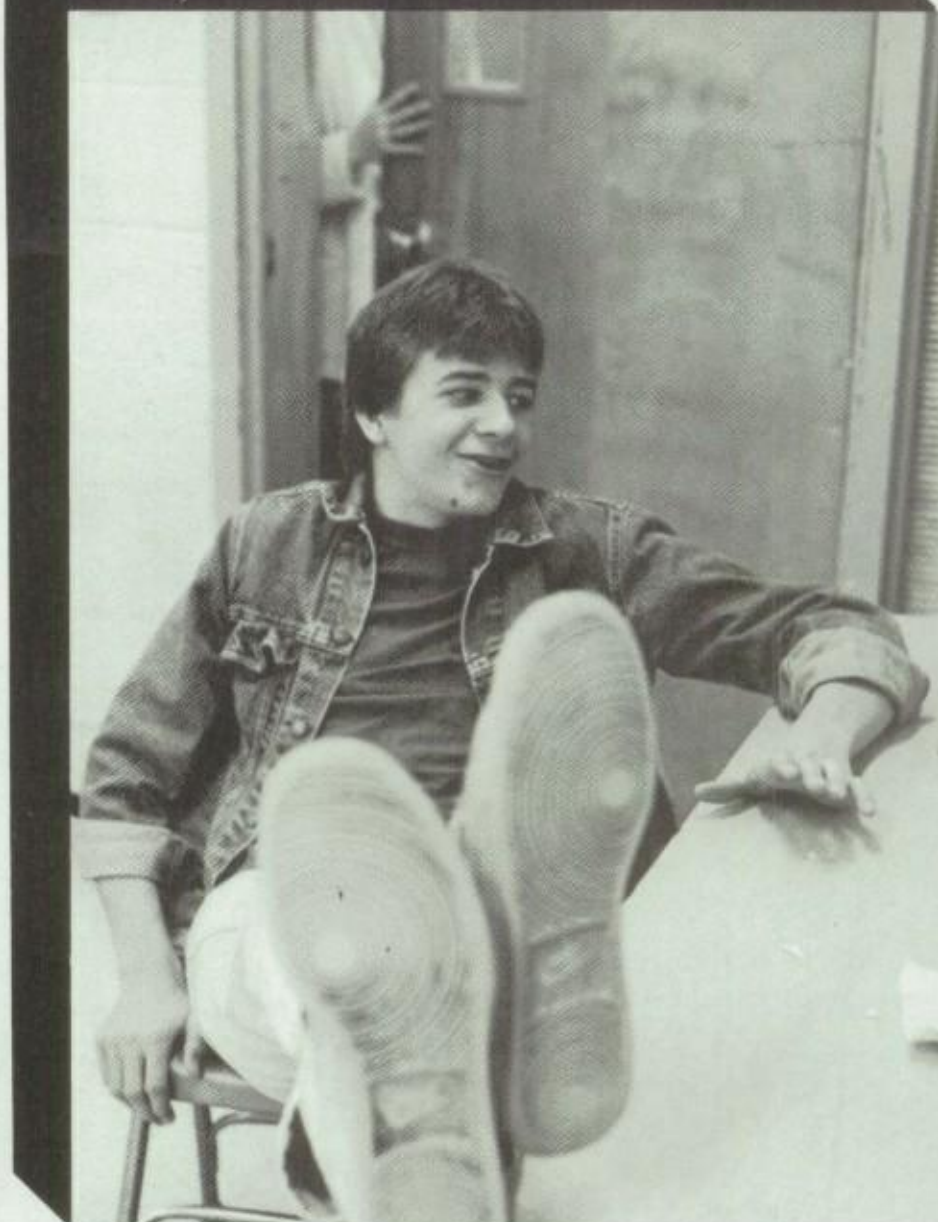

After parties, schedule changes, and numerous lunches "a-la-Dick Skinner's microwave sandwiches," students looked at events and said, "I can't wait until school lets out!" As the year passed and graduation came, those same students cried at the graduation ceremonies and said good-bye to the graduates and friends they would be leaving for a while.

A Class Act!!

The fifth period tardy bell rings and the noise begins. With custodians putting chairs on the table and Dick Skinner hollering at Sam McDonald across the cafeteria, things get pretty hectic for Coach Carr's health and personal business management classes on the stage.

This "classroom" has other unique qualities. "The room's decor is versatile," says Coach Carr. "We have curtains that we can open and close, a baby grand piano, and multi-colored lights to fit the mood."

Carr is also used to changes in his schedule. For example, if there is a banquet planned in the cafeteria, his podium immediately disappears. When the band gives a concert or Mrs. Fenly puts on a puppet show, he goes to his "alternate classrooms" which are usually the library or the gym.

The morning classes held on the stage have become accustomed to finding their desks moved offstage. Carr says that it usually takes twenty minutes to get the classroom back in order.

Besides not getting to hear the announcements in the mornings and it being the coldest place in the school, the stage has a few likeable qualities.

"I like the stage better than a regular classroom," says Brandi McClendon, a seventh period student. "We have become a little family up there."

Sam McDonald, principal, told Carr that his lovely "home" will not be needed for the next school year, because of the new buildings and additional room. Therefore Coach Carr will have to get used to a regular academic environment to work in.

Carr and his "stage students" have really accepted their classroom. They have learned to look at it this way. "The world is a stage and each of us must play a part."

The Bulldog coaching staff worked hard this year to give us some exciting memories. The 6-0 victory over the long time rival Groveton is something we will always remember.

The head coach was Jimmy Skinner, who has been at CCHS for three years. Coach Dan Reeves was coach for J.V. football, varsity football, junior high basketball, and varsity baseball. Coach Keith Gardner worked with J.V. football, varsity football, basketball, and track. Coach Ray Bostick worked with varsity football and basketball. Coach Ed Monzingo worked with varsity football and baseball. Coach Don Carr worked with junior high football, varsity football, and track.

Bulldogs Have Good Start!

Groveton has beaten Corrigan most of the time these two teams have met. In 1978, Corrigan beat Groveton 33-6, then lost every game to them for the next seven years. This year things were turned around once again when the Bulldogs beat the Indians 6-0 in the season opener Sept. 5, on Groveton's home field.

The Bulldogs won their next two games. They beat the Lovelady Lions 36-0 on Sept. 12, and the Elkhart Elks 18-6 on Sept. 19, giving the Dogs a 3-0 record.

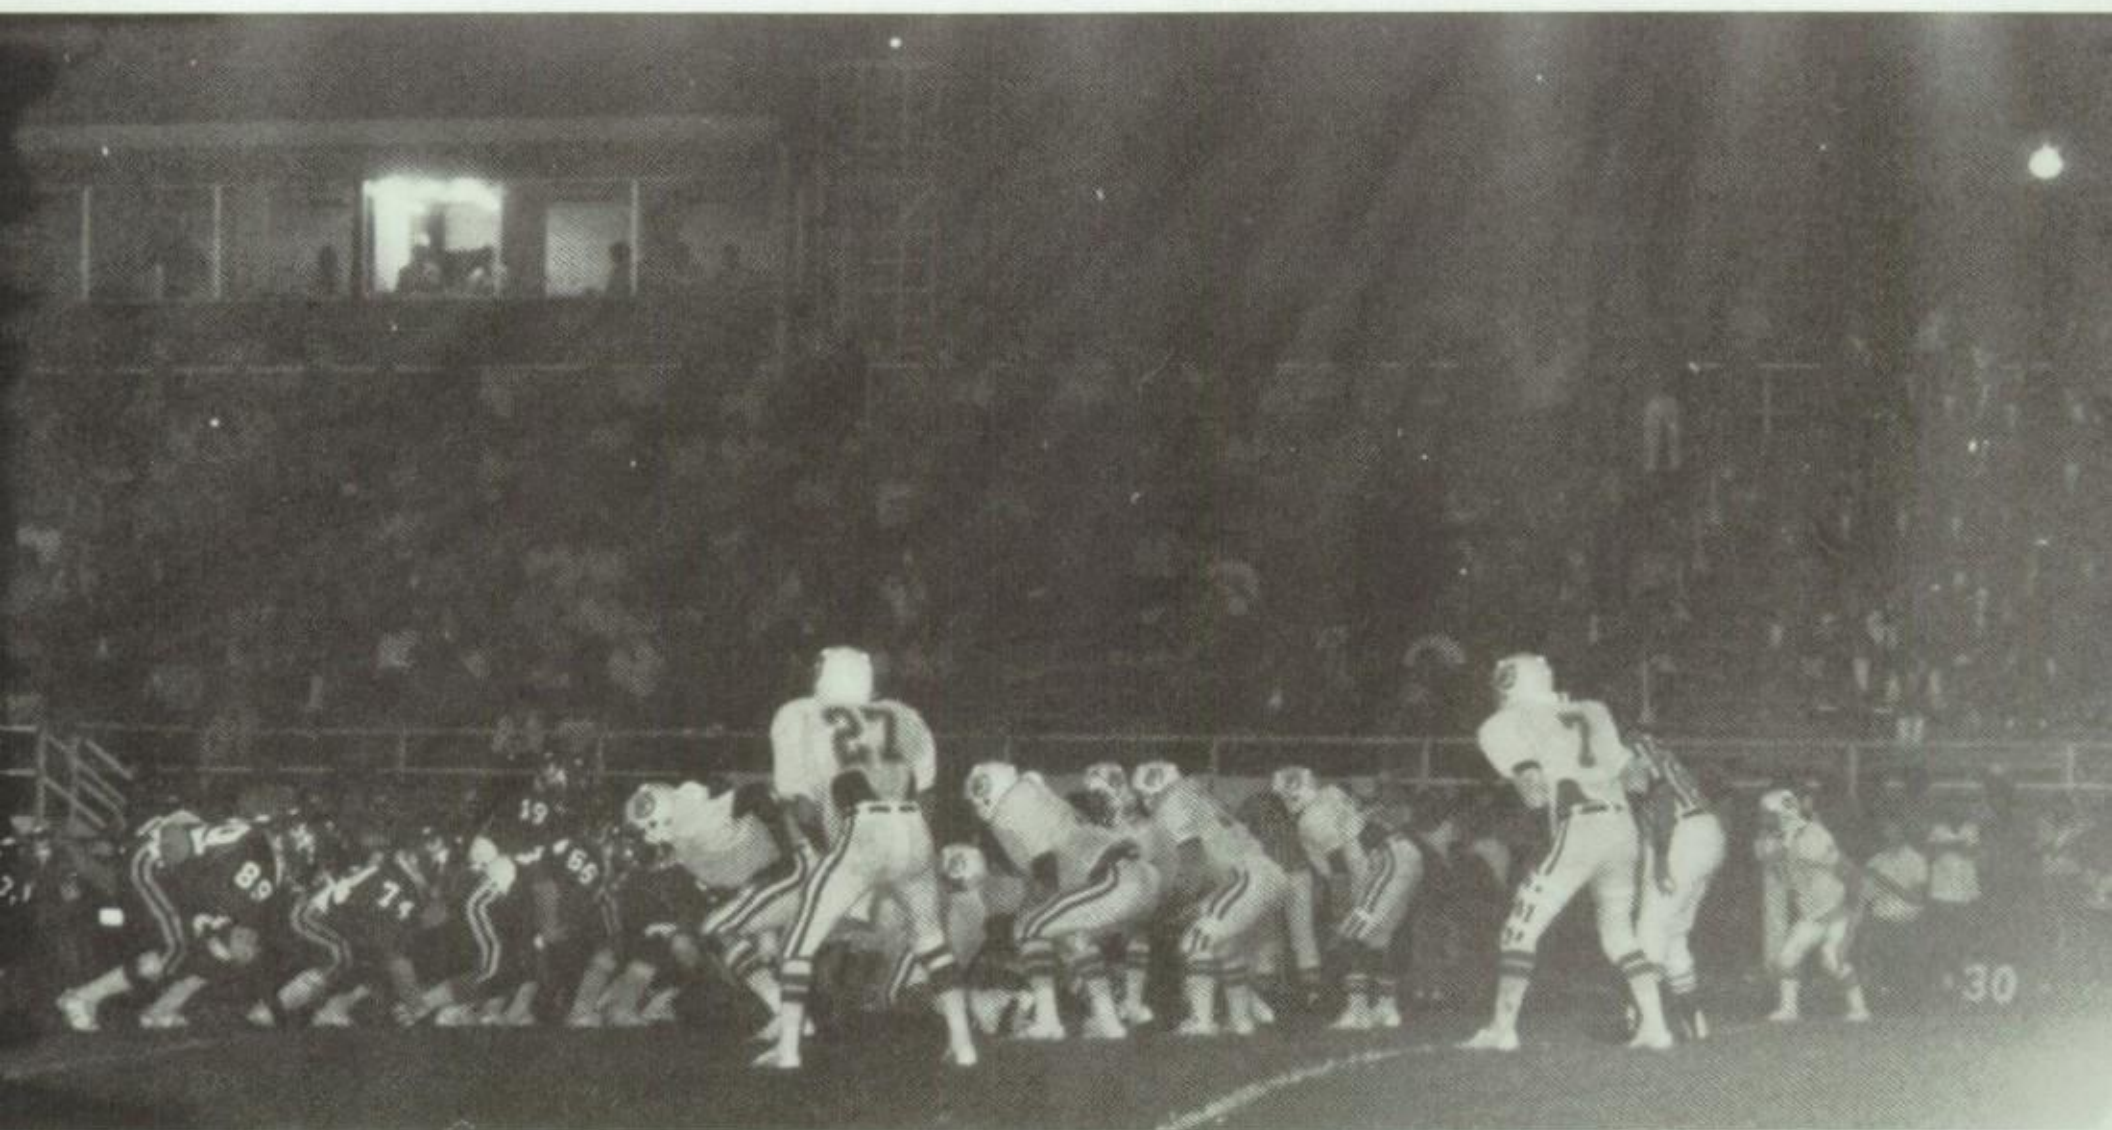

The Dogs' winning streak was broken on Sept. 26 when the Grapeland Sandies beat the Dogs 8-7 followed by a 44-21 lose to New Waverly on Oct. 3.

The Bulldogs started the district race off with a 34-0 victory over the Huntington Red Devils on Oct. 10. The San Augustine Wolverines beat the Dogs 9-7 with a last minute safety in the end zone during the game on Oct. 17.

At the last away game for the season, the Diboll Lumberjacks axed the Dogs 21-7. The Dogs were back on track with a 24-2 win over the Hemphill Hornets on Oct. 31, and a 28-16 victory over the Roughriders from Center on Nov. 7. The Dogs ended the year with a 6-4 season and a 3-2 district record.

Basketball Was an All-Time High

The varsity boy's basketball team, coached by Ray Bostick, worked through a tough season this year. After losing four, tying one, and winning two pre-district games, the Bulldogs, set their hopes on a better district record.

Tough 3A teams challenged the Dogs and over half of them were won. The players put their fast and skillful moves together to zip down to the goal and score a quick two points when it counted. Competitiveness and togetherness boosted the team spirit.

The varsity players were Michael Woodard, Eric Monzingo, Jonathan Jackson, Ben Martinez, Paul Woods, Jimmy Meniffee, Johnny Dishman, and Robert McQueen.

Girls have bad breaks

This year's Varsity Ladydog team may not have had their best district season, but the pre-district scores showed the young team's improvement and increased skill. The change to district 18AAA pitted them against some tough teams like Center, San Augustine, Huntington, and Hudson.

Their inexperience was felt at the Lovelady, Broadus, and Leggett tournaments. It is hoped that next year's team will be prepared to battle with those teams that scraped ahead by only a few points.

Outstanding offensive players like Kelly Cline and Michelle Phillips kept moving the ball constantly, while Dorothea Hood and Donna Brown made quick recoveries for the girls.

Junior Varsity Basketball

"If we had maintained the grades, we would have had a lot better season," stated Coach Gardner. The Junior Varsity Bulldogs started off the season with twelve members. After the first grading period, the team decreased to seven.

The dogs had seven wins and nine losses when they closed out their season. We can look forward to some good basketball talent coming out of this group.

The junior varsity team included Doris Colquitt, Pat Cooper, Curtis McClendon, George Meniffee, Tony Davis, Chris Standley, and Rob Walker.

Junior Varsity Girls

The Junior Varsity Ladydogs had a hard season. They won only one game, and it was 12-9 against Diboll. During the middle of the season, most of the Junior Varsity Ladydogs moved up to the varsity team.

The Ladydogs were coached by Deana Kelm. This is the first year for Coach Kelm to lead the Ladydogs.

Track Team

Girls' track took off to a good start this year with a large team and strong runners. Though not quite fast enough to keep up with district tracksters, the girls spent much time practicing to improve each time.

Hard at work to improve their 9th place finish at the West Hardin Relays, the girls tested their performance in different events. Coach Kelm switched runners in events until the best for each was found.

Monica Barringer made it to Regionals at Blinn Junior College in the mile run and the two-mile run.

Boys Win District For Seventh Year

Track season started off with a bang this season, as Corrigan won its first three track meets at West Hardin, Orangefield, and here in Corrigan. Pitted against some challengers from Newton, Groveton, Diboll, Colmesniel, Bridge City, Orangefield, West Hardin, and many more, the Bulldogs pulled 124 points from its March 7 victory, and 98 points from the Orangefield meet on March 14.

Jonathan Jackson was named high-point performer for the boys at the West Hardin meet with 28 points and Paul Woods took the honor at the Orangefield meet with a total of 25 points.

Jackson also set a new record for Orangefield's 300m hurdles with a time of 38:73. Johnny Dishmon set a new shot put record with a throw of 48'3", beating the old record held by Walter Fortune.

Corrigan-Camden Bulldogs kept the district title for the 8th consecutive year this season.

Eric Monzingo and David Broaddus both went to regionals in the pole vault with heights of 10-6. Monzingo placed first for fewer misses, and Broaddus placed second.

Fred Jones, Lance Scott, Jonathan Jackson, and Paul Woods placed second in the 400m relay with a time of 43.20 seconds, a mere .02 seconds behind Diboll's relay team.

Ira Drayton swept the 800 meter run with a time of 1:58.92, and Rob Walker took second in the 400 meter dash.

Paul Woods won first place in the 100 meter dash with a time of 10.70 and also finished first in the 200 meter dash with a time of 22.06.

Jimmy Meniffee pulled past Jonathan Jackson to take first in the 110 meter high hurdles with a time of 15.25 seconds, with Jackson right behind with a time of 15.34. Jackson also bagged first place in the 300 meter intermediate hurdles at a time of 38.39.

In the 1600m relay, Scott, Jones, Walker, and Drayton clocked in at 3:24.71 to cinch second place after Diboll and the right to advance to regionals.

Both Jackson in the hurdles and the 1600m relay team advanced to the state meet. The relay team came in fifth place but Jackson walked away the state champ in the hurdles.

Teacher

School. Many different connotations can be given to the word. But what is school really? Is it all work and no play, all play and no work? What school really boils down to is students and teachers. Students go to school; teachers teach them. If students and teachers don't get along, nothing can get accomplished. Student/Teacher relationships, therefore, are very important to the overall scheme of things.

The teachers and students here at CCHS have very special relationships. Teachers and students treat each other equally. The teachers don't make themselves superior to the students if the students don't make themselves superior to the teachers. The teachers at CCHS are concerned about the students as individuals.

Senior Rachel Huff said, "The teachers try to help if you have problems whether they are school related or not. They don't treat you like you're a number; they treat you like a real person."

a. Coach Reeves and Rachel had a great friendship. b. Mrs. Myers will really help you in any way she can, if you want her to. c. Mrs. Jackson and Ellie got along great in Home and Family Living. d. Coach Skinner and Chase Jones shared a laugh as they read the paper. e. Nancy Lee and Nancy Gassiott had a really weird relationship, the only common thing was their names.

Relationships

There is also a lot of respect between students and teachers. Teachers respect students as intellectuals. They don't look at them as just stupid kids who only have half brains. The students, in turn, respect the teachers, not only because the teachers respect them, but because the teachers are intellectuals also.

English teacher Carrel Reed said, "Respect must come first. If the student doesn't respect the teacher, then he/she won't put forth any effort in class."

This situation can also be reversed. Sophomore Andy Sonsel said, "If the teacher doesn't respect the student, the student's pride may get hurt causing him/her not to put forth any classroom effort."

Many teachers feel that a more relaxed atmosphere works better in the classrooms. They feel that the students' opinions should be expressed. Senior Brenda Donaldson is quoted as saying, "Some teachers create a more relaxed classroom which makes students more at ease."

Overall, the student/teacher relationships at CCHS are very good. The teachers and students are friends and not enemies. It is this kind of atmosphere that makes for a great school year.

Senior Shelly Mallard ties it all together when she says, "I believe that the student/teacher relationships are better than in the past. The teachers care more, and the students respond better."

c.
a. Sydney and Ramona were best "BUDS"! b. Guadalupe Gomez is Mr. Ray's personal aide and all around best friend. c. What a good Teacher Student relationship! d. A future Teacher/Student relationship.
